REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

References Magee (US 2003/0076904), Reina (US 2003/0169823), Geile (US 2004/0042387), Reshef et al (US 2004/0199557), and Greene (US 2005/0102342) are cited because they are pertinent to the method and apparatus for calculating Fast Fourier Transform (FFT) using radix function. However, none of the cited references teaches or suggests, in combination, the arrangements of an input/output interface for selecting a memory for input/output among memories for input/output and FFT calculation, selecting one of four banks of the selected memory, and performing input and output on the selected bank; two N-word memories each having four banks used for input/output to the input/output interface and FFT calculation; a first data exchange for selecting a memory for FFT calculation among the memories for input/output to the input/output interface and FFT calculation, and connecting banks assigned to each butterfly input/output to 4 inputs of a butterfly calculation circuit for in-place calculation; a butterfly for performing a radix-4 butterfly and a radix-2 butterfly provided from the first data exchange with one circuit, and forming a symmetric reverse output; a second data exchange for selecting a memory for FFT calculation among the memories for input/output to the input/output interface and FFT calculation, and connecting banks assigned to each butterfly input/output to four outputs of a butterfly calculation circuit for in-place calculation; and an address generator for generating a bank index and an address for performing in-place calculation in a multi-bank memory structure in order to form a modulation apparatus using a mixed-radix fast Fourier transform (FFT) as recited in claim 1 and variations of the function of the mentioned elements as recited in claim 5 and further limitations of their respective dependent claims 2-4 and 6-11.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
